What's it about?

LET THE ADVENTURES BEGIN: ... "You're nervous and crouched inside a woodland hut. The enemy attack is expected at any moment. All is quiet, save for the sound of your own breathing. You hear a whisper from your team mate, who is covering a window beside you. "Here they come !!" You tighten your grip of the butt of your semi-automatic carbine. Your throat feels dry and tight. Your eyes stare, searching for the Blue Team. SPLATT! A shot whistles past your head and snaps you out of your trance. The butt of your carbine fits comfortably into your shoulder as you draw a bead on your assailant... WHAM! You squeeze off a couple of shots to return their fire. You miss, but only by inches. They break cover, and dive to their right. For a split second their fully exposed, but you're ready for them. BLAM! Your target jumps, and the sound of a satisfying thwack is heard, as your shot finds its target! All around you chaos has now broken out. Fleeting targets appear and disappear and the crack of multiple paintball shots fill the air Paint pellets impact and whistle all around the hut., as the real battle between Red and Blue begins.....". This is not an excerpt from a movie but just a typical few exciting moments playing paintball!
